Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 08 January 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1 and 3-15 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claims 3 and 8, the phrase “a diameter and height capable of holding at least one finger ring” is vague, confusion and indefinite because it has no clear meaning and also the at least one finger ring is not claimed in combination with the organizer. The phrase “sized to receive and store one or more items of jewelry” in claims 1, 8, 11 and 12 is vague, confusion and indefinite because it has no clear meaning since the one or more items of jewelry is not claimed in combination with the organizer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 3-15 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ross, Jr. (4,212,131). Ross, Jr. discloses a disk toy/organizer (10) comprising a body having a generally planar upper surface (16) and a lower surface (15), a knob (12) protruding upwardly from the body and extending above the upper surface, at least two separate compartments (14) formed in the upper surface of the body and each compartment defined an elongate endless channel, and a recess in the lower surface of the body to provide a means for stackable configuration between the recess and the knob. Ross, Jr. further discloses each of the channels surrounded the knob on the upper surface and an outer rim includes a lip (13) around the periphery of the body. The sized of the compartments of Ross, Jr. are inherently capable for receiving jewelry and a diameter and height of the knob is inherently capable of holding at least one finger ring.

5. Claims 8-10 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sperry (2,098,168). Sperry discloses a spinning toy/organizer comprising a body (1) having a generally planar upper surface and a lower surface, a knob (15) having a diameter and height protruding upwardly from the body and extending above the upper surface and at least one compartment (5) formed in the upper surface of the body and the compartment defined as an elongated channel (Figures 1-2). The sized of the compartment of Sperry is inherently capable of receiving one or more items of jewelry and the diameter and height of the knob is inherently capable of receiving at least one finger ring over the knob.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 1/18/2005 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

Applicant's arguments with respect to 112, second paragraph in the remarks are noted. They are not persuasive because the phrase (as above) is remained unclear since applicant is not claiming the ring or any other specific item of jewelry (as stated in the remarks) but applicant relies on the sizes of the knob or channel for patentability and this is the point the Examiner is trying to make.

Applicant's arguments with respect to Ross, Jr. in the remarks are noted. They are not persuasive because Ross, Jr. is clearly disclosed the generally planar surface disposed around the knob and the size of the compartment of Ross, Jr. is inherently capable of receiving an item of jewelry.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
